AVIATOR FOWLER IS BUSY REPAIRING WRECKED BIPLANE

WILL MAKE TRIAL FLIGHT ON SATURDAY AND START OVER THE SIERRAS.

COLFAX, Cal., Sept. 15.—Aviator Fowler said at noon yesterday that the work of repairing his biplane was progressing very satisfactorily. He expected to make a trial trip Saturday and to resume his transcontinental flight Sunday morning.

COLFAX, Cal., Sept. 15.—Aviator Fowler and his mechanics began construction of a new biplane yesterday from the parts of the machine wrecked Tuesday, the second day of Fowler's flight from San Francisco to New York. New parts arrived yesterday morning from Ogden. Except for a slight soreness of one leg Fowler is uninjured.

The Colfax Gun club has contributed $250 and the citizens another $250 to help him defray the expense of reconstructing his biplane. Excursions conducted by the management of the Narrow Gauge railroad, running out of here, will add to this fund.

Will Start Saturday.

Fowler said he would be ready to renew his journey Saturday and that his mechanics told him that possibly he would be able to start earlier. He said he was confident that he could make the trip across the Sierras.

His experience of Tuesday taught him that in the high altitude it is necessary to increase the supply of air which feeds with the gasoline as the raw air does not feed fast enough through the ordinary valve to make satisfactory combustion. The rebuilt machine will have a larger valve than that ordinarily used.

MURDERER OF CHILD NOW IN STATE PRISON

HURRIED TO PRISON SO AS TO PREVENT ANY ATTEMPT AT VIOLENCE.

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 15.—John A. Johnson, a neighbor of the Lembergers, has confessed that he murdered seven-year-old Annie Lemberger, whose body was found in a lake, and who was supposed to have been assaulted and murdered by two Italians.

He was immediately sentenced to serve life in the state prison and is now enroute to serve his term.

Johnson brooded all day in his cell in the city hall. Late in the day he abandoned his air of insanity and began pacing up and down in his cell in a restless manner. Once he anxiously asked Turnkey Foye if there was any danger of his being lynched. Finally, declaring he could stand the strain no longer he called the turnkey and said he was willing to tell all.

To the chief of police, district attorney and turnkey he said the deed was the result of a sudden impulse. He had watched through a bedroom window while the little girl and her sisters undressed on different occasions.

On the fatal night, at 10 o'clock, after the children had fallen asleep, he quietly raised the sash, snatched little Annie from her bed, dragged her through the window and knocked her on the head with his fist so she could make no outcry. He then took her to the railroad bridge, and, after beating her until she was dead, threw her into the lake.

Johnson said he did not want to make a detailed confession, as he wanted to get to the penitentiary as quickly as possible, so as not to be lynched. He said he would make a written confession after he is in prison.

Testimony at the inquest was conflicting. One physician was of the opinion that the child was assaulted; another that she was not. Life imprisonment is the maximum punishment for murderers in Wisconsin.

RECORD RUN IS MADE WITH TRAIN OF NEVADA CATTLE

YESTERDAY AND REACHED BAY CITY TODAY.

RENO, Nev., Sept. 15.—A record-breaking run was made by a trainload of cattle which passed through this city yesterday. It consisted of 27 cars and left here at 2:45 p. m., arriving at San Francisco at 5:10 this morning.

The shipment consisted of nine cars sent out by Grant Pyle, and twenty carloads for the Western Meat company.

The time from Lovelock to this city was only three hours, and the shipment went through from Deeth to San Francisco without need of unloading for watering, feeding and resting.

CONSTRUCTION FOREMAN SUICIDES IN RENO HOTEL

RENO, Nev., Sept. 15.—Pressing the muzzle of a pistol to his forehead, E. Hanley sent his soul to the hereafter.

The tragedy occurred in a downtown hotel. No one knows the exact time that he hurled himself into the great darkness, but there was the muffled sound of a shot heard Tuesday night about 9 o'clock and it could not be located, but is believed that it was the herald of the leap into the mystery.

Hanley registered about 8 o'clock. He was in such a state of intoxication that he could not write his name and address, and was accommodated by the clerk, who saw him to his room.

When found his body lay totally disrobed upon the bed. One limb was on the floor. It was evident that he was standing by the bedside when he fired the shot and he fell across the bed, with the muzzle of the gun within an inch of his ear.

The gruesome discovery was not made until 4 o'clock last evening. A chambermaid had tried his door and found it locked. Ingress to the room was made after her report to the clerk's office, through a window.

The deceased was foreman of one of the construction crews that are constructing the great dam at Lahontan, in Churchill county. He was not a man addicted to drink, but he came to Reno and entered upon a debauch, evidently depressed by some great sorrow. What it was that inspired him to the fearful deed is not yet known and will probably not be adduced at the inquest or in the future.

CEMETERY THIEVES.

Considerable complaint is being made daily of unprincipled persons stealing from the graves of the dead entering the city cemetery and the vases put there by relatives, in which may be placed flowers for the loved departed ones.

It is believed the person who commits these thefts is a man, and after robbing the dead, sells the wares for a mere pittance and invests his few cents in strong liquor. It is to be hoped that this specimen of low manhood may be caught in the act. Judge H. H. Atkinson will do the rest.

BOY HAS A DESPERATE BATTLE WITH BIG RAT

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 15.—Harold Keinzel, a 12-year-old boy, is at the receiving hospital here today, following a desperate battle with a rat, which, when killed, measured 12 inches in length. Keinzel was standing on a corner when the rat came out of a sewer vent and leaped upon him. One of his hands was nearly bitten through.

NEW STRIKE IN MIDWAY LOOKS LIKE BIG THING

Ore Shoot Opened Up In Winze In the Northwest Crosscut on 600 Level
---Strike Is In New Territory.

Another rich strike made! Will wonders never cease? Midway is the latest to come into its own.

Whisperings were carried on last evening and this morning of a rich strike in the Midway Mining company ground. This good news was not a surprise to many of our readers, for the reason that during the past month many citizens of Tonopah have been quietly buying all the Midway stock that their ready cash would permit.

And the strike has occurred. It was made in the winze on the 600-foot level. The winze is down 140 feet in the northwest crosscut from the 600-foot level.

The new find has over a foot of high-grade ore and will easily average $50 to the ton. It looks as though it is the making of a big high-grade shoot of ore. In this winze at different intervals bunches of good ore was extracted that would run up into the hundreds of dollars when assayed. For the past two weeks these bunches lead to stringers and the stringers coming into ore, made a ledge and this ledge is now growing considerable as each round of holes is fired.

There is not a mining man in Tonopah or one who ever went through the workings of the Midway holdings but what has proclaimed a great future for the property. There is a bright dawn breaking for the stockholders of the Midway. Gloom has departed and joy unconfined has arrived. The new find is virtually in virgin territory and in the center of its holdings with plenty of ground to work before the end of the holdings is reached.

The Midway strike has made everybody happy in Tonopah. New ore bodies in different localities Mount Oddie seem to be the order of the day.

SHOOTING ENDS THE LIFE OF AN OLD PROSPECTOR

William Richards and Kirk Steve, Better Known as "Bodie Steve," In a Fatal Fight In a Saloon.

HAWTHORNE, Sept. 15.—William Richards, a saloon man and barber of Aurora, the old-time mining camp in the northern end of the county, killed Kirk Steve yesterday morning at 9 o'clock.

Steve was an old-timer of this section, having following Bodie and Aurora through their various vicissitudes. His occupation was that of prospector and he was known as Bodie Steve.

Richards is the proprietor of a saloon and he had an old grudge against Steve, whom he had repeatedly warned to keep away from his place.

Yesterday Steve got drunk in a new resort and then sallied forth to the saloon of his old enemy. He carried a large and ugly-looking knife and was advised by several customers not to start anything.

Richards asked Steve to give him the knife, but Steve said: "I will give it to you in the neck."

Then came a fusillade from Richards' gun and one of the shots became effective in the body of the prospector, just above the kidneys.

Steve died in a few minutes.

Aurora is a small camp and has no arresting officer. At last accounts Richards has not been placed in custody, but it awaiting the arrival of the district attorney from Hawthorne.

Richards has lived in Aurora for the past three years. He formerly resided at Dayton and Bodie. He cares for four children at Aurora. His wife died three years ago.

20,000 FLEE BEFORE THE ADVANCING LAVA RIVER

CATANIA, Sicily, Sept. 15.—The 20,000 inhabitants of Castiglione and Francaville turned their backs on their homes yesterday, fleeing before the advancing flood of lava from Mount Aetna. Both towns are threatened with destruction.

The discharge from the crater and new fissures increases in volume. The main stream, pouring down the northeastern side of the volcano, has made its way sluggishly about and over the foothills toward the base, crossed the railway and invaded the valley of the Alcantara.

Yesterday the front, 50 feet high and a third of a mile wide, broke over and forced the peasant dwellers in its path to make a hurried retreat. It cut off the water supply of several villages.

CONVENTION CALLED.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Sept. 15.—As a rebuke to the St. Joseph Street Railway company, which does not recognize their organization, the delegates and visitors to the international convention of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electrical Railway Employees of America yesterday drove to Lake Country in tallyhoes, where they were entertained at a fish fry.

CONCLUDING CHAPTER OF GHOST STORY IN COURT

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 15.—The concluding chapter of a ghost story terminated in police court here yesterday with a fine of ten dollars

APPOINTMENTS MADE.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Paul F. Bradley of Illinois, a law clerk of the interstate commerce commission, yesterday was appointed assistant attorney general of Porto Rico at a salary of $2500 a year.

WARD MAKES FIRST LEG IN HIS LONG FLIGHT SAFELY

VAUDEVILLE WILL NOT ALLOWED IN CHICAGO SALOONS

MAYOR HARRISON HAS ISSUED
ORDER—DOES NOT INCLUDE
RAG-TIME SONGS.

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—"Saloon vaudeville" is to be abolished in Chicago by order of Mayor Carter Harrison, singing of rag-time songs or sentimental ballads does not constitute vaudeville, in the opinion of Mayor Harrison, but let the singer do a dance as well, and the law has been crossed.

Hereafter vaudeville entertainment will not be permitted except in theaters. "Midnight vaudeville," which draws after-theater crowds into restaurants and cafes, must also go.

The mayor declared that his order hits every place not having a theater license.

KOYNE GETS FOUR YEARS IN PENITENTIARY

Yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock was the hour set for the sentencing of W. A. Koyné, the high-grader, by Judge Averill. The prisoner, when asked to stand up to receive his sentence did so, but before the same was pronounced, Judge Chambers, who defended Koyné, moved for a new trial on several grounds, the principal one being certain instructions to the jury and the admission of evidence that should not have been admitted. Attorney Chambers argued for over two hours, but of no avail. The district judge overruled the motion and sentenced Koyné to serve a term of four years in the state penitentiary. Judge Chambers says he will take an appeal to the superior court.

TONIGHT IS THE NIGHT.

The signers for membership in the government Gun club to be organized tonight are requested to be on hand at 7:30 o'clock sharp. Take notice of the word "sharp," and put in an appearance. It is desired to send the necessary papers to the headquarters at Washington, D. C., not later than Monday. The meeting place will be the office room of the National Realty Investment company, lower Main street.

SHERIFF MALLEY LEAVES WITH THREE PRISONERS

Tomorrow Sheriff Malley will leave for Carson City with three prisoners. W. A. Koyné and Hugh Miller, found guilty of grand larceny, and Gus Pistinat, innocent, but found guilty of violating the gambling law. If he had stolen cattle he would have been given his liberty.

The conviction of Gus Pistinat was a dirty piece of business, in which Attorney General Baker played a part. Tomorrow the readers of the Bonanza will learn how law and justice is garbled in Nye county. But in the meantime, a poor unfortunate goes to the state prison.

AMATEUR AVIATOR FALLS 75 FEET BUT IS UNHURT

ENID, Okla., Sept. 15.—In attempting to turn in a strong wind in making a trial flight near here yesterday, C. C. Cesna, an amateur aviator, lost control of his monoplane and fell 75 feet. The machine was wrecked, but Cesna escaped with slight injuries.

The H. A. McKim Company store is now ready to offer the ladies of Tonopah a genuine treat in an opportunity to inspect the latest up-to-the-minute ladies' and children's fall millinery, and on Friday and Saturday, the 15th and 16th inst., special efforts will be made to show every visitor those beautiful goods. Everybody is welcome. 9-13-11

HE EXPECTS TO REACH ELMIRA
TODAY, 225 MILES FROM STARTING POINT.

PATERSON, N. J., Sept. 15.—J. Ward, the youthful aviator, resumed his flight at 9:22 o'clock this morning toward the Pacific coast. The first leg of the journey in his flight from coast to coast was made yesterday when he flew from Governor's Island against buffeting winds to this city. Ward is flying for a prize of $50,000, offered by W. R. Hearst.

Well out of the criss-cross of railroad tracks that led him astray yesterday when he left Jersey City, Ward experienced no more trouble in finding his way. He planned to follow the tracks of the Erie railroad and make his first stop at Middletown, N. Y., about 50 miles away. There he will try to get gasoline and try to reach Elmira, 225 miles from today's starting point, before nightfall.

Arrives at Middletown.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Sept. 15.—James Ward, the youthful aviator, after descending near Tuxedo, resumed his flight and landed here at noon today.

Six thousand people were on hand to greet Ward when he alighted in a big field. The aviator was in the best of spirits and expects to make fast time after leaving here. The machine worked badly after he left Paterson, compelling him to alight once near Southfield, N. Y.

Ward said his engine was out of order and that he would have to have it repaired before proceeding. He expected to leave at 3 p. m. today.

TOMORROW'S PROGRAM AT THE BUTLER

"ANIMATED NEWSPAPER" OF
HAPPENINGS AND DOINGS
IN THE WORLD.

Tomorrow afternoon and evening at the Butler theater four reels of pictures will be shown as follows: "His First Trip," Edison drama; "The Pals' Oath," Pathe Western; "Intrepid David," Vitagraph comedy, and the Vitagraph Monthly of Current Events, an "animated newspaper" of great happenings and doings of the world at a glance.

This film gives us the great happenings and doings of the day—things we read about and very seldom see. We peruse our newspapers, are struck at once by the headlines of what is taking place in the world, and wish we were fortunate enough to witness them.

In this first issue we are treated to the pleasure of witnessing a head-on collision between two locomotives going at the startling speed of sixty miles an hour, just after the crews have jumped from their cabs. With terrific force they are interlocked with each other, like two giant wrestlers steaming, puffing, groaning as they collapse in a death struggle, a dismembered, scattered mass of iron and steel.

Another feature of entirely different character that appeals to our love of sport and athletic supremacy of pluck and brawn are the games of the American Athletic association held at Pittsburgh for the national championships, fully portraying the great national champions and athletes in the accomplishment of their marvelous feats of skill and endurance.

Furthermore, we are brought face to face with President Taft at the La Crosse games of the Crescent Athletic club and reviewing the annual parade of the Sunday schools of Brooklyn, N. Y., presenting some of the activities of life of the head of this great nation in encouraging the people in doing things that tend to make stronger and better citizens.

Besides all of these there is the national aviation flights of the national aviators; an actual scene of a stirring and thrilling character; and the Marathon race at Coney Island.

There will be the usual two shows in the afternoon and three at night, and the admission will be the same—10 cents.
